The Casimir Pulaski Foundation is an independent, non-partisan think-tank specializing in foreign policy and international security. The Pulaski Foundation provides analyses that describe and explain international developments, identify trends in international environment, and contain possible recommendations and solutions for government decision makers and private sector managers to implement.

The Foundation concentrates its research on two subjects: transatlantic relations and Russia and the post-Soviet sphere. It focuses primarily on security, both in traditional and non-military dimensions, as well as political changes and economic trends that may have consequences for Poland and the European Union. The Casimir Pulaski Foundation is composed of over 60 experts from various fields. It publishes the Pulaski Policy Papers, the Pulaski Report, and the Pulaski Commentaries. The Foundation experts cooperate with media on a regular basis.

Once a year, the Casimir Pulaski Foundation gives the Knight of Freedom Award to an outstanding person who has promoted the values represented by General Casimir Pulaski: freedom, justice, and democracy. Prizewinners include: Professor Władysław Bartoszewski, Professor Norman Davies, Alaksandar Milinkiewicz, President Lech Wałęsa, President Aleksander Kwaśniewski, President Valdas Adamkus, Bernard Kouchner, and Richard Lugar, President Vaira Vīķe-Freiberga, President Mikheil Saakashvili, Radek Sikorski i Carl Bildt and President Toomas Hendrik Ilves.

One of the leading projects in the field of international security is the annual Warsaw Security Forum, organized in partnership with the Polish and foreign partners and institutions, which is bringing together policymakers from European Union and NATO countries to discuss major security challenges.

Casimir Pulaski Foundation received an award “Think Tank Awards 2017” in category “Best EU International Affairs think tank”, awarded by Prospect magazine.

The Casimir Pulaski Foundation has a partnership status with the Council of Europe.

In today's world, countries need to deal with both military and non-military threats. Security issues has therefore risen to the top of the agenda. The gradual reduction of America's presence in Europe and lessening defence spending among many European allies has made it necessary for a wider take on security issues in Central Europe. Due to its geopolitical position, Poland is a perfect location to undertake a discussion on European security issues.

The Warsaw Security Forum addresses these issues through an international gathering of experts who specialize in security. Its purpose is to exchange professional experiences as well as to present solutions to complex regional security challenges confronting the Central and Eastern European region. The two day forum consists of numerous plenary sessions dedicated to security issues, particularly those related to the future of NATO; the Common Security and Defence Policy of the European Union, including relations with the Russian Federation; energy security; border states of NATO and the European Union; new threats and security in the economic, military and politic dimensions.

RTMx Round Table Mixer

Round Table Mixer is a format for handling meetings where presentation and exchange of ideas as well as letting the participants getting known each other are the main goals. All participants seat at the round tables fitting between 6 to 10 people. In order to make the agenda flow smoothly and at the right tempo it follows specific rules. Each topic on the agenda has a dedicated time slot broken into following parts:

- Introduction – 2 min
- Presentation - 13 min
- Q&A - 5 min

Between the blocks there is a 5-minute-long technical break during which participants change the tables and introduce to each other exchanging business cards.

Background:

Round Table – is a symbol of constructive dialogue and the largest peaceful political and economic transformation in Poland. It's been almost 30 years that have passed since the victory of Solidarity movement. Meanwhile Poland became a member of NATO and the European Union. Looking back at the journey that is behind us but even more at the challenges ahead of us we feel that we need a creative discourse that will mobilize us to constantly raise the standards of public and economic life. We need consensus, but also discussion about shared values. That is why we are promoting the idea of the Round Table.

The initiators and organizers of RTMix meetings are: Michał M. Lisiecki, entrepreneur, publisher of two opinion weeklies, Matthew Tyrmand - American economist, financier, author of the book “Jestem Tyrmand, son of Leopold”.
